

SITE National Audubon Society's Corkscrew Swamp Sanctuary Naples, Florida

PROJECT Canopy Forest exhibit

GRANT $30,000 plus $30,000 in local matching funds.

NOTEWORTHY The sanctuary's boardwalk winds its way through the largest remaining stand of ancient Bald Cypress forests in the world. Many of the trees date back 600 years.

This exhibit will give people an opportunity to see life in a canopy forest. The swamp is one of the largest nesting sites for endangered Wood Storks. These birds take advantage of the diverse life forms in the southern canopy of the swamp.

To learn more about the National Audubon Society's Corkscrew Swamp Sanctuary, access www.audubon.org/local/sanctuary/corkscrew.

